On Thursday last, Sena'or Bland, charged, in a speech on the finances, that Senator Pridemore had threatened secession .-The Lexington Gazette has come out boldly for the measure, but the Richmond DISPATCH quotes the constitution, which says no new State shall be formed without the consent of the Legislatures of the States to be affected by it, and it boldly flaunts this barrier in the faces of the GAZETTE and the Senator from Lee, and bids them erack their whips. We regret very much to see manifestations of such a spirit. It bodes no good to the commonwealth and is not apt to result in the diminition of the public turthens, nor in any increase of local development. It is wild and snicidal, to assert as sound policy, that the Western boundary of our State, should be set apart as a commercial syphon, the shorter arm of which shall extend from Moccasin Gap to Chattanooga, leaving the longer one to empty into Baltimore Every particle of the wealth which should go largely to the development of the remainder of the State.

THE CURRENCY.

New York is in a furious rage against Congress for its purgose to expand the currency. Both Houses are agreed upon putting the legal tender issues and the National Bank currency up to four hundred millions each. This will be a total increase of ninety-six millions. At length we find the West at variance with the North East on this subject. If the measure will give the South and west more currency casian race-comparatively few of Afand at the same time break the alliance between the Northwest and Northeast, we may well rejoice at
